The figures are incomplete, but it was learned yesterday from reports of several cansus enumerators employed that while at present there are more adult women than men in Chicago, there are not nearly so many girls as boys. The report of a census enumerator of one subdivision in the Twenty-fifth Ward, shows in that subdivision, there are 1950 adult women.

SUGGESTIVE RELATIONS.

With Schmidt eating and sleeping at Johannsen's hause, and a frequent visitor and confidant of the organizer for the building trades and chief producer of funds for the Los Angeles strike; with Bryce, the illusive and mysterious one, calling Johannsen's headquarters by telephone; with Tvietmoe a companion of Schmidt in drinking bouts and indorsing Caplan's applications for police powers, if seems that the Los Angeles grand jury has reason to inquire further into their relations.

Of course, the laborites here say there is a conspiracy to indict them and blacken unionism, but the easiest way to defeat such a conspiracy, which of course does not exist, is to give the Los Angeles grand jury all the facts, But there seems to be no disposition to do this. Third District Appellate Court Will Pass Upon Street-Car Suit Next Tuesday.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28.—[Exclust SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Argument was made today before the Third District Appellate Court on the petition of Howard Huntington and others for a writ of mandamus against Secretary of State Curry, to compel him to accept articles of incorporation of the reorganized Los Angeles Railway Company, and to issue a certificate of the filing of the same.

Attorney McLaughlin of the Los Angeles Railway Company, declared that the civil code and the State Constitution does not class a street railway as a railroad in the meaning of the law as applied to steam railroads. He contended that the street railways or in a municipality, while a steam railroad got its franchise from competitive bidding in a municipality, while a steam railroad got its franchise from its articles of incorporation, and the section referred to did not bring into its provisions street railways because their operations are of an entirely different class.

Asst. Atty. General Glenn, and J. Charles Jones for Mr. Curry, set forth that the law which provided for payment into treasuries of all corporations of a certain amount of its capital stock, particularly for banks and railways, applied to street railways as well. It was a protection to the investor and applied to all classes of railways, steam or street, they argued.

Justice Chipman set the case for next Tuesday for decision.

Inspector McCann was not only one of the best informend men in the police department of Chicago, but an athlete as well. He rose in five years from the rank of Sergeant to the command of the largest police division of that city. The Frank brothers, Julius and Louis, who had grown wealthy in the saloon business and other pursuits peculiar to "tenderiolin" districts, were the principal witnesses against the defendant.

Immense sums are alleged to nave been collected by McCann. The gathering of immunity money is said to have been pursued in systematic and business like fashion. There was, it was alleged, a regular schedule of prices.

almost helpless. A heavy duit pain and settled upon his forehead and eyes, and when he arose to his feet, a quain of nauses swept over him. He pulled a light overcoat, which covered his evening clothes, into shape but it was wrinkled and muddy, as were his trousers. His shoes were solled and his hat was crushed nearly out of shape. He buttoned his coat around him closely to hide his evening linen and started to walk toward the street. As he rounded the corner of the lumiber pile which had been his bed for the night, he started and drew up suddenly in surprise, for there before him, huddled in a niche of boards, was a young sirl, sound asleep. She was plainly and rather shabbily dressed, and round her shoulders was drawn a faded cape; but there was something peculiarly attractive about her face. Wheeler stood and watched her, pugsling.
"Some liftle factory hand," he thought at the great building in front of him.

As his eye caught sight of the lettering along its cornice, he burst out laughing.

"Crawford's factory!" he exclaimed, and laughed again at the irony.

His laughing wakened the girl, and she sat up, staring at him resentfully.

"I beg your pardon," said Wheeler, awkwardly. The girl stood up and stared at him appraisingly, from head to foot. When at length her eyes rested on his face, she drew back a little.

"Well, for the love of Mike!" she exclaimed. A dood!"

Wheeler smiled. "Oh, no; really I'm not," he said. "Anyway, I'm sorry I woke you up."

The girl was obviously puzzled and abashed. The experience was a new one for her, and she was unable to cope with it adequately.

"Oh, that's all right," she stammered. "It was time I was getting up anyway," "You work here?" Wheeler indicated the factory with his hand. He was interested.

"Nope, not yet."

"Oh, I see. You're going to."

A shadow swept over the girl's face. "Don't know yet." She spoke wearily. For some peculiar reason Wheeler was interested. "Looking for a job?" he asked.

"Sure thing." Then suddenly she looked up quizzically. She realized that she was putting a great deal of condidence in a strauger. "Who are you, anyway" she asked.

"Oh, it doesn't matter." Wheeler replied carelessly. "I got lost last night,

President Lynch of National League
Says Chairman of National Commission Has the Dope.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Thomas J.
Lynch, president of the National Loague, today made his first statement regarding the trouble between the Philadelphia and Cincinnati clube, over the deal in which eight players
are involved. Lynch said:
"So far, all I know about the controversy I have learned from the newspapers. As I understand the case, Manager Dooin, of Philadelphis, entered into an agreement with Manager Griffith, of Cheinnati, by which Pitchers McQuillin and Moren, Third Baseman Grant and Outfielder Bates of the Philadelphia team were to be traded to Cincinnati for Pitchers
Beebe and Rowan, Third Baseman
Lobert and Outfielder Paskort.
"Horace Fogel, president of the Philadelphia club, objects to the deal, saying Dooin, his manager, had no authority to make it.

the case, I am inclined to think that Herrmann, who knows thoroughly
every rule and regulation in basebali, and is a stickler for living up to the rules himself and for everybody else living up to them, must have something to back up his assertion that the deal was perfectly legal in a baseball sense, or he would not be so inmistent in his claims to the four Philadelphia players."

Grace Hopkins, the actress, has invented a point guard for her hat pins which not only permit her to utilize the ordinary pin, when it is not beyond the usual length, but also to make it absolutely safe for those whose faces may come in close proximity to its point. The guard consists of a cap, about half an inch in length, which is filled with cork or rubber, and into which the point is thrust after the pin has been run through the hat. The guard is in itself an attractive ornament for the feminine headgear.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 28.—The post mortem held this morning by Drs. Bishop and Buell on the decomposed body of J. S. In addition to this there are indications of a knife or buillet wound on the right side of with a blunt instrument. In addition to this there are indications of a knife or bullet wound on the right side of the throat, just under the jaw bone. The body was thoroughly examined, a piece at a time, but decomposition has progressed so far that wounds on the body, if there are any, would be almost impossible of detection. Taking the head, however, the examining surgeons speedily satisfied themselves that a triangular hole at the base of the skull was the cause of death. The hole was made by some heavy instrument. It is three-cornered and leading in several directions are fractures of the skull. The main wound broke through the outer shell of bone covering the back of the head. The head was severed from the body and is being boiled to remove everything from the bone, after which the refuse and Object to Assessment.

A suit involving the affairs of the Paradise Mountain Mining and Milling and Milling and Milling and Milling Company was filed in the Superior Court yesterday. The plaintiffs are Thomas W. Aisbitt and other stockholders of the corporation, against the company, W. A. Miller, O. W. Teutschman, H. B. Woodward, H. Galeson, Jr., and C. W. Pendleton, members of the board of directors of the company.

The plaintiffs are objecting stockholders, who own in the aggregate about 64,000 shares of the capital stock. They allege that on September 6 last there was a pretended meeting of the board of directors, when a resolution was adopted providing for the levying of a assessment of 2 cents a share, with the further provision that all unpaid shares are to be sold for and on account of the assessment on November 1, if not paid before that time.

November 1, if not paid before that time.

The plaintiffs aver that there is no necessity for the assessment, and that it was levied without the consent of the stockholders of the corporation. It is also alleged that the debts of the company amount to $18,000.

They ask that the assessment be declared void, that the defendant board of directors be enjoined from disposing of the stock of the plaintiffs, and that a receiver be appointed.

NOISY BELL TROUBLE. SENTENCE "UP" WHILE SILENT.

The noise nuisance received another setback in Police Judge Rose's court yesterday morning in the case of Louie Cohn, a peddler, who in order to batter call the attention of the exclusive residents of Harvard bedievard to the merits of his wares, equipped his wagon with a bell which is said to have made both day and night hideous.

"He had a bell as big around as that, your Hohor," said Patrolman Oakley, throwing his arms wide. "When I spoke to him about it he said that he needed it to make a living with and he was going to ring it all he wanted to—so there."

Cohn had no excuse to offer other than that this was the first time he had ever been arrested. The court gave him a sentence of $2 fine or the same number of days, suspending it on condition that the bell should be heard from "no more forever." SENTENCE "UP" WHILE SILENT.

HEARING AT VENTURA.

VENTURA. Oct. 23.—The case of the Union Hollywood Water Company vs. the City of Los Angeles, being an action on behalf of the water company for an injunction against the city's enforcing water rates for the year 1910, as fixed by the Council, on the grounds that they are in violation of the constitutional provisions of both the State and national Constitutions, and that they are confiscatory, etc., is being heard in the Superior Court of this county before Superior Judge Clarke.

More than ewenty days were consumed in taking testimony in Los Angeles county and the case has been shifted to this county in order to accomodate Judge Clarke.

The funeral of Mrs. Helen Hund, a pioneer resident, took place yesterday from the old Mission Church. Mrs. Hund was 91 years of age and leagues. Two sons and a daughter. One son, Fred, resides in this city, while the other, John Hund, is a resident of New Mexico. The daughter, Mrs. Christine Kroll, resides in Leavenworth, Kan, where deceased lived during her younger days.

WOMEN'S VOTES.

Los Angeles Daily Times.

that is, women above suspicion of poli-tical intrigue or "pull."

"MERELY BECAUSE."

We believe that women should serve on editorial, charitable and some municipal boards as they are doing more and more every year and doing especially well, both because they know how and because they are above suspicion. Really, is not this enough? In view of the facts one is almost tempted to feel that women who want the vote want it "merely because" they haven't it.

Vague promises of better wages and that women who want the vote want it "mercly because" they haven't it.

Vague promises of better wages and better laws are held out to working women. How can the ballot raise wages? If it can do this and give greater rights from their employers, why has it not done it for men? Why are male voters "striking" all over the country? Why are millions of voting men out of employment, as Samuel Gompers says they are? The inexorable law of supply and demand is in force here and hard as that law is, all the votes of all the women in all the world can not change it. Certain things are past the power even of legislation and far. far beyond the reach of the ballot.

Much good has followed the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States and those of some States, concerning the limit of hours for women in aforces and factories when not on actual duty—but the best protection of this kind is notably NOT in the four States where women vote.

There is no relation between a woman's vote and her wages except where there is "pull." And how can there be "pull" if women are to purify politics—which they freely promise to do?
